DIABETIC FOOT CLINIC SET UP AT SAUDI GERMAN HOSPITAL

Diabetic foot clinic set up at Saudi German Hospital

Saudi German Hospital, Jeddah, opened a new specialized diabetic foot clinic recently. The center was necessitated due to the increasing number of diabetic patients, Dr. Ezz Alarab M. Ahmed, chief operating officer at SGH, said. Among the increasing number of diabetic patients, those complaining of diabetic foot problems are also prominent, he said, adding: "If diabetic foot problems are badly managed, it may lead to amputation." The opening of the specialized clinic is part of the hospital's commitment to the community and part of its efforts to create awareness of the diabetic patients about the foot care they have to take, he added.

The diabetic foot clinic treats complications like infections, inflammations, and vascularity impairment in lower limbs either by therapeutic catheters and stents applications, or open surgeries.

The clinic also serves prophylactic measures like feet circulation check-up, feet care, etc.

The clinic is run by the vascular surgery department team chaired by Dr. Mahmoud Salah in coordination with orthopedics, plastic surgery, dermatology and internal medicine department teams.

SGH Group President Sobhi Batterjee said such an important and highly specialized clinic had been established in all of the group's hospitals inside and outside the Kingdom.
