

Publication	Saudi Gazette (KSA)	Page	11
Date	Wednesday April 18, 2012
Country	KSA / Pan Arab
Circulation	55,000	OTS	121,000
COST	SR 8,873	Size	1/8
Article Type	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Agency Generated Release

Color

Yes

BUPA ARABIA OFFERING MORE JOB OPPORTUNITIES FOR SAUDIS

Saudi Minister of Labor Adel Fakieh (third from left) with Bupa Arabia executives in front of the Bupa booth.

Bupa Arabia offering more job opportunities for Saudis

BUPA Arabia, the Kingdom's first specialized health insurer, is a participating sponsor of the five-day Liqa'at, the National Recruitment Exhibition being held at Al Harithy Jeddah National Exhibition and Convention Center until Thursday. The event, held in association with the Human Resources Development Fund, was opened by Adel Fakieh, Saudi Minister of Labor.

"We are a keen supporter of national job fairs such as Liqa'at since they provide a unique opportunity for us to meet and recruit promising young Saudi talents," said Thamer Al Harthi, Chief HR Officer of Bupa Arabia. "We have now reached a Saudization level of 52 percent and to further enhance job nationalization within the organization, this year we are offering more jobs in various departments. Moreover, Bupa Arabia is an award winning company for the best working environment".

Liqa'at acts as an exchange platform that connects job seekers with organizations through interviews and job matching. This year the annual event featured more than 60 leading Saudi companies offering a total of 5,000 jobs and attracted more than 2,400 visitors on the first day including a record number of Saudis seeking employment with Bupa Arabia.

Supporting its position as an award winning working environment, Bupa Arabia is deeply committed to recruiting and training Saudi nationals for rewarding careers in the Kingdom's fast growing health insurance industry. – SG

Publication	Arab News	Page	22
Date	Wednesday April 18, 2012
Country	KSA / Pan Arab
Circulation	62,807	OTS	150,737
COST	SR 22,785	Size	1/5
Article Type	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Agency Generated Release

Color

Yes

BUPA ARABIA BANKS ON SAUDI TALENT

CAREER CHANCE

Bupa Arabia banks on Saudi talent

Bupa Arabia, the Kingdom's specialized health insurer, took part as a sponsor of the National Recruitment Exhibition at Al-Harithiyyah Jeddah National Exhibition and Convention Center.

Labor Minister Adel Fakeih opened the event, held in association with the Human Resources Development Fund.

"We are a keen supporter of national job fairs such as Liqa'at since they provide a unique opportunity for us to meet and recruit promising young Saudi talents," said Thamer Al Harthi, chief HR officer of Bupa Arabia.

"We have now reached a Saudization level of 52 percent and to further enhance job nationalization within the organization this year we are offering more jobs in various departments. Moreover, Bupa Arabia is an award-winning company for the best working environment."

The event acts as an exchange platform that connects job seekers with organizations through interviews and job matching.

This year's event featured more than 60 leading Saudi companies offering a total of 5,000 jobs and attracted more than 2,400 visitors on the first day including a record number of Saudi nationals seeking employment with Bupa Arabia.

Bupa Arabia is deeply committed to recruiting and training Saudi nationals for rewarding careers in the Kingdom's health insurance industry.

Labor Minister Adel Fakeih with Bupa officials and guests.